

GOVERNORS MEET WITH PRESIDENT FOR DRY PARLEY

Discuss Ways And Means Of Clamping Down Prohibition Lid.

MUST CO-OPERATE,
PRESIDENT SAYS

Harding May Call Other
Leaders For Conference Later.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Responding to an invitation from the president, governors of 15 states came to Washington today for conference with Mr. Harding at the White House on ways and means of more effectively clamping down the prohibition enforcement lid.

Cognizant that the present system of enforcement has not brought about the highly desirable results anticipated, President Harding will mince few words in making it quite plain to the governors that hereafter all dry agents, federal or state, must unite in closest co-operation to combat liquor. Only in this way, Mr. Harding will point out, can the "national scandal" of prohibition laxity, stressed in his message to congress, be dealt with.

The question of the propriety or expediency of the dry law is not an issue in this conference. President Harding is now only concerned to see that the law is enforced.

Lack of Co-operation
While President Harding does not feel that any specific agency or individual can be blamed for the apparent let-down in the dry campaign, he is represented as being of the opinion that the laxity reported to him from many sections of the nation has been due in no small degree to the lack of proper and harmonious co-operation between the regularly constituted prohibition units, state as well as national.

Because of the magnitude and scope of the work, it is believed he will bring out in the conference that it is a well-nigh hopeless task for the federal agencies to tighten up the lines without earnest and active assistance from the states. On this ground he will appeal to the governors for aid, believing that the state units are a vital and essential part of the general prohibition machinery.

Later, the president probably will call other state leaders here for conferences, while at the same time sending out warnings to federal enforcement chiefs that they must redouble efforts to avoid a further repetition of the present admittedly deplorable enforcement situation.

AUTO PLOWS INTO CROWD OF ORPHANS

Ten Children Are Injured
While Returning From Church Service.

Marietta, O., Dec. 18.—Ten children were injured, four of them seriously, that they will be in a hospital for some time when an automobile plowed into a crowd of orphans from the Washington county children's home as they were returning from church Sunday evening.

Arda Foush, of Warner, who drove the car that struck them, blames defective lights on his own automobile and the glare from the lamps of another car that was approaching.

The children missed an interurban car after church services and started to walk to the home. As they were about to turn into the driveway where the automobile plowed among them, three of four were run over, others hurled into a ravine at the side of the road and the remainder were scattered about. A woman attendant was slightly injured.

Explosion Of Still Burns Men To Death

Pittsburg, Dec. 18.—George Petrovich, 40, and John Busko, 45, were burned to death early today at Milltown, near here, in a fire which county officials believe to have been caused by the explosion of a moonshine still. The charred bodies of the two men were later found lying across the copper "worm" of one of the stills.

Investigate Blaze Which Sweeps Town

Danville, O., Dec. 18.—Investigation was started today of the cause of a fire which early yesterday swept the business district here, destroying three buildings and damaging two others with a loss estimated at $75,000. Volunteers organized into hastily formed bucket brigades saved other buildings.

Man's Head Blown Off When Powder Lets Go

MaArthur, O., Dec. 18.—While leaning over a can of powder he was warming at a stove at the Puritan mine this morning, Columbus M. Ward, 45, was killed when the explosion let go.

Chicago Shivers As Thermometers Show Three Below

Chicago, Dec. 18.—Below zero weather was experienced by Chicago today for the first time this winter. Harry T. Graham, a printer, was found in a doorway this morning frozen to death.

At 5 a. m. the thermometer registered three below.

The fire department experienced one of the busiest nights in its history last evening, 70 fires being reported up to 8 a. m. today.

"Continued cold," was the weather bureau forecast in its shippers' advice, the bureau warns that shipments intended for the north and northwest should be protected against temperatures reaching below zero.

RECRUIT OFFICERS FOR RECORD SMASH AT BOOTLEGGERS

Orders Go To State Agents
To Stop Christmas
Booze Trade.

Washington, Dec. 18.—A record-breaking smash at bootleggers in all principal cities where wet goods in large quantities are reported to have been concentrated for the Christmas trade, was inaugurated today by prohibition officials. It will be the busiest week of the year for enforcement officers.

Orders were sent to state prohibition directors to recruit extra enforcement officers where emergency situations warrant additional outlay of government funds.

Some of the cities where the liquor venders are to be given extra battle this week are Pittsburgh, New York, Jersey City, Newark, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Atlanta, Norfolk, Richmond, New Orleans, Boston, Washington, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

Prohibition agents will be concentrated in chief ports along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Border patrols also are to be strengthened. The force of agents in some of the suspected wet strongholds have been augmented by staffs of experts drawn from the less busy enforcement offices of the west.

Private advice to prohibition officials today indicated an enormous volume of imported whiskey and wine is seeping through the barriers to meet holiday demands. Their main problem now is to stop distribution of supplies already landed.

27 MISSING AFTER SHIP HITS ROCKS

Passengers Are Believed To Have Drowned Or Perished In Cold.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 18.—All hope for the lives of 27 men passengers and crew of the tug Reliance wrecked on Lizard island in Wednesday's gale vanished today with the finding of two overturned lifeboats known to have carried the party.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 18.—Twenty-seven persons are missing and are believed to have drowned, or died from exposure following the disaster which overtook the tug Reliance when it hit the rocks of Lizard island four days ago.

It was the fear expressed by officials of the Superior Paper company, owner of the tug, who last night, for the first time, admitted that in addition to the crew of 14 the Reliance carried 22 passengers.

Seven survivors reached here last night. Two others, Mr. and Mrs. John Harten, cooks, were suffering so from cold and exposure that they were left at a station of the Algoma Central Railroad for medical attention.

The last seen of the missing 27 persons was Wednesday morning, when the Reliance, battling through a blinding snowstorm, went on the rocks off Lizard island, stripped her wheel and sank almost immediately.

Captain Williams and six others took one lifeboat while nine others, including Mr. and Mrs. Harten, took the other. The second boat drifted several hours in the storm and was blown ashore on the Canadian mainland, 85 miles north of here.

Mrs. Harten was so exhausted that the party was held up hours in an Indian shack before it was able to start inland toward the railroad which was Saturday. The survivors express little hope that the others lived through the storm.

BOY COASTER HIT, INJURED FATALLY

Alliance, Dec. 18.—James Mummett, six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mummett, West Summit st. was struck by a delivery truck Saturday and probably fatally injured.

The lad was coasting and lost control of his sled. When it dashed out into the street the boy was struck by the truck. His skull was fractured.

This is a photograph of Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson and her husband, Clarence Thompson, who were arrested in Chicago in the midst of a spiritualistic seance at the Masonic temple. Mrs. Thompson claims to be the world's greatest psychoanalyst and an associate of Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir A. Conan Doyle. They were arrested while an audience (paid admissions, too) waited to see the ghost walk.

Send Three Boxes Of Sweets To Ohio Vets In Hospital

Three boxes of sweets were packed by the women of the American Legion auxiliary at the legion hall Sunday afternoon to be sent to inmates of the military hospital at Dayton.

The edibles consisted of cakes and cookies home-made candy and fruit. The Salem auxiliary was requested to furnish a sufficient supply of the dainties to fill individual boxes for 30 men who are at the hospital, disabled in some manner by their war experiences.

A committee of citizens and Red Cross workers will meet in Dayton Saturday to pack the individual boxes to be presented to the veterans on Christmas day.

FIRE CHIEF LISTS DONT'S FOR HOLIDAY

Malloy Makes Appeal For
"Fireless" Christmas
In This City.

An appeal for a "fireless" Christmas this year has been voiced by Fire Chief Vincent Malloy, who urges Salem residents to use every precaution in preventing fires in their homes during the Christmas holidays.

Special precautions in using Christmas decorations and trees are urged by Chief Malloy who warns against the use of candles in unsafe positions on Christmas trees.

Among other suggestions of the chief are these:

"Do not trim the Christmas tree or Santa Claus in cotton batting and be sure the tree decorations are of the non-inflammable kind.

"Do not leave children alone in rooms with trees lit by candles.

"Be sure the tree is on a secure base and will not topple over.

"Never go away from the house a minute leaving the candles or tapers burning.

"Beware of shades, curtains and drapery when placing candles in windows.

"Do not force fires in open grates, especially in grates where fires have not been burned for some time.

"Use judgment in placing candles on trees to prevent decorations from taking fire.

"Be especially careful with electric wiring for Christmas trees. Be sure there are no loose connections or chances for a short circuit."

Fawcett Notes Some Signs Of Improvement In Russia

Few People Starving, But Conditions For Winter
Are Not Bright.

Improvement in conditions of Russian life is noted in a message received in Salem from Prof. Howard S. Fawcett, former Salem resident, who is now doing relief work with the American Friends Service in Russia, along with other former local people.

Few people are actually starving in the region served by the Friends, the message states, because of the crop of melons, vegetables and other commodities harvested this year.

Prof. Fawcett left Riverside, Calif., July 1 on a year's leave. He planned to spend nine months of the year with the Friends and the remaining three months in the study of agricultural conditions in Russia.

Portions of his message follow: "I found here a city of about 20,000; in its more prosperous days it had contained nearly 40,000 and was an important center for grain, (wheat, rye and millet). A large elevator stands by the railroad, a conspicuous mark on the landscape, now only used for the receipt of seed grain for the peasants. A number of flour mills stand idle, only a few being used at present.

"The surrounding country is like the Iowa prairies; great level stretches with gentle undulations and a rich black soil free from stones or rocks and easily worked. A majority of the peasant houses are built of straw and mud with a mud-thatched roof. Some of the better houses are built of brick.

Crops Below Normal

"The relief work of the Quakers covers an area approximately 250 miles long and 150 miles wide known as the Buzuluk Ozd. This was one of the worst famine districts last year, the population having decreased about 25 per cent in six months during the spring and winter. Few people are actually starving in the area at present because of the melons, vegetables and crops harvested this year. The crops however, were far below normal even this fall. This

THREE ARRESTED IN RAID, TWO FOR CARRYING WEAPONS

Prohibition Agents Visit
Home In Washington-
ville At Night.

State prohibition officials are still "on the job" in this vicinity and in a visit to Washingtonville Saturday night they succeeded in confiscating two quarts of whiskey at the home of Tony Delandro and at the same time arrested two Youngstown men, charging them with carrying concealed weapons.

The visit to the Delandro home was made after prohibition agents had been warned that they would be killed if they interfered with Delandro, according to threats made by Delandro. When they entered the house the two Youngstown men reached for their guns, it is alleged, but were overpowered by the authorities.

A revolver was taken from Tony Garriola who pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was fined $100 by Mayor H. L. Stouffer. Garriola was dismissed.

Loeg Crurluno also was charged the officers had relieved him of a revolver with carrying concealed weapons after a fight. He pleaded not guilty and Mayor Stouffer bound him over to court under $500 bond.

Tony Delandro pleaded not guilty to possessing liquor and after preliminary hearing Saturday night before Mayor Stouffer he was released under $1,500 bond and is to appear for trial at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

BURGLARS SHOOT, ESCAPE WITH $411

100 Persons Held At Bay
After Storekeeper's
Son Is Shot.

Steubenville, Dec. 18.—Two masked burglars entered the store of Frank Caragna here early this morning, shot Felix Caragna, the storekeeper's son, in the groin and escaped with $411. The burglars held at bay more than 100 persons who were attracted to the scene and made their escape.

While one of the bandits covered the proprietor, the other rifled a safe. Caragna's son entered a rear door and both burglars opened fire. He fell behind a counter badly wounded.

The shooting attracted a crowd of workmen from the La Belle Iron works nearby. Brandishing their revolvers the burglars forced the crowd to back from the front of the store and disappeared in the darkness.

Ex-Kaiser Carried Coffin On Voyages; Found On Flagship

New York, Dec. 18.—An emergency coffin for former Emperor William of Germany was found in a musty closet aboard his old flagship, the Bremen, now the Constantinople.

The former kaiser made most of his long voyages to the German African provinces and other parts of the world aboard the Bremen. The coffin always accompanied him.

Lying in a handsome steel oval the coffin has the imperial insignia on the sides and lid in bas relief on enamelled iron crosses. The interior is lined with satin once white, now spotted with grease.

Underneath the satin is an elaborate set of box springs, which would have insured an easy ride over the bouncing waves to the Fatherland, relief in the Near East. He will establish headquarters in Athens.

REP. COPE FAVORS LOAN FOR SCHOOLS AND RURAL POLICE

Promises To Vote For Any Measure To Provide
School Relief.

COPE IS OPPOSED TO CONSTABULARY

But Farmers Should Have Some Police Protection, He Says.

State Representative Harvey D. Cope of Rogers is in favor of legislation providing for an appropriation or loan from the state treasury to the school board in municipalities where the operation of schools is jeopardized by lack of finances, according to a statement made by him Monday.

Representative Cope also declared that he stood in favor of what he characterized as a "rural police bill" but expressed himself as opposed to a state constabulary law, such as was defeated at the last session of the legislature.

Representative Cope's statement follows:

Cope's Statement
"The tax question, no doubt, will be one of the big matters which the legislature will have to face" said Mr. Cope. "The question of furnishing much needed relief to municipalities, school boards and other taxing units which to meet operating expenses can be solved in one way only—by an appropriation or offering loans until such a time that the money can be paid back with a low rate of interest."

"The state has about $10,000,000 or more in a fund, which, I believe, could be used advantageously in this respect. Up until about three months ago this fund was close to $18,000,000, which represents the savings during Governor Davis' administration but about $7,500,000 was used in meeting soldier bonus claims."

"East Liverpool, Wellsville and schools in other parts of the county must close, I have been told, before the end of the term if the state fails to provide relief at its January session. I have prepared no legislation on this question, but will vote for any measure which will provide relief for the school boards."

"I am opposed to the state constabulary bill, which has been drafted at Columbus and will be presented to the legislature in January, but I do favor the establishment of a police force that will protect the rural communities."

Opposed Constabulary Bill
The constabulary bill which will be presented at the coming session is practically the same measure that was defeated early this year and I am opposed to the creation of a force that can be called out in industrial disputes. The farmers have no protection, but in the cities we have police departments to maintain order and if they cannot cope with the situation let them appeal to the governor for troops."

"I will work for the establishment of the proposed fish hatchery at the Guilford dam, in this county, again at this session. This location has already been designated for this purpose, but cannot be made a reality until money is provided. I will seek to have a bill enacted which will require fishermen to be licensed as a means of providing revenue for this purpose."

FOUR BOOZE CASES SET FOR HEARING

Gabriel Taffin Only Salem
Man To Appear Before
Ferre Wednesday.

Four booze cases remain to be heard before Mayor Albert W. Ferren at East Palestine this week, all of which have been set for trial Wednesday morning.

Gabriel Taffin, 75 Franklin ave., Salem, is the only local man on the docket for trial. Taffin was arrested Friday midnight charged with transporting liquor and soliciting sales. He entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned Saturday and was released on bond of $1,500 for his appearance Wednesday. This made his second arrest within three weeks on liquor law charges.

John Siskler Rocco Pecola, and Harry Denmore, all of Wellsville, will be given hearings Wednesday.

The trio was arrested in raids conducted by state officers W. D. Jones and Melvin Thompson Tuesday in Wellsville. Charges of possession have been lodged against them. Attorney O'Grady of Wellsville will represent the defendants, while it is expected Attorney J. L. Hilton of Canton, district counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, will represent the state.

The Grange As An Institution

THE inclination too often is to disregard, or at least to underestimate the value, or potency, of those constructive and reconstructive forces which are more silent than obtrusive, more deliberative and convincing than persuasive and inflammatory. And yet the conviction is that the enduring efforts in behalf of humanity have been those executed and sustained by an unselfish desire for the betterment of all, rather than by opportunism and stubborn class-consciousness, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Fifty years ago, when the objects and purposes of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, were perhaps as clearly defined and possibly not as well understood as they are today, the popular conception of that organization was that it profited a "corporate," a sort of inner circle, designed to array the farmers of a class against their neighbors in the towns and cities. But that mistaken conception has been dissipated, entirely through the efforts of the grange, exerted nationally through its central organization, or sectionally, through the local and state units.

It is interesting to discover just how this important change has been wrought. The processes, undeniably adaptable generally, are as simple as they promise to prove effective. The grange seems to have based its campaign firmly upon the tenet of co-operation, not as such co-operation might be defined to include the immediate welfare of its members, but that of all the people, whether of the farm or of the city. It seems to have been discovered, and demonstrated that lasting good must be that which benefits all. If class-consciousness ever existed among the granges, it seems to have been overcome by education and the application of the broader and better theory.

While it may be true that the greatest objectives of the grange have been economic betterment, the means employed to such ends have been broad and comprehensive from whatever standpoint judged. Co-operation production and distribution has been assumed to embrace co-operation in the intellectual and moral betterment of the people of the United States as a whole. While it is non-partisan in the sense that it is non-partisan, it is active in all important public affairs.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that in outlining and enlarging its comprehensive plan of co-operation the grange should throw its weight and influence onto the side of prohibition and law enforcement. The eighteenth amendment is properly regarded as both constructive and reconstructive, and directly in line with the advanced policies of a progressive people. "Individual happiness," according to a grange tenet, "depends on general prosperity." This general prosperity is being promoted, as even the enemies of prohibition will admit, by the destruction of the saloon.

The grange is a secret order without many secrets. It has no unpublished code of ethics. What it purposes it undertakes deliberately and unobtrusively, its councils being guarded only against eavesdroppers. Many times it has spoken emphatically and effectively in the larger affairs of the nation, and it is prepared now to make its voice heard in every good undertaking. But it has learned to endure temporary defeat, just as those who strive ceaselessly for the right must meet momentary disappointment. The fledgling of a half-century or more ago has become, however, a sturdy and resourceful veteran, equipped, perhaps better than ever before, for the service which the hour demands.

Saving The Parks

THE fight to keep the national parks free from exploitation by private interests will be continued in the present session of congress.

Water power interests in the west are determined to convert some of the great streams, scenic falls and forest areas in various national park properties to their own private use in developing light and power projects. It is said that many of these proposed schemes would utterly destroy regions of surpassing natural beauty rightfully belonging to the people as playgrounds.

The secretary of the National Park association suggests that if people would translate the proposed projects into terms of the parks near home, they would appreciate better the danger confronting the national parks. Nobody wants the village greens of the smaller towns or the beautiful parks of the larger towns laid waste, their trees cut down, their streams and falls deflected and their open spaces filled with power plants so that private concerns may profit. This is just what the water power interests propose to do in the national reservations.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about 4c.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FAIR SCHEDULES ARE ANNOUNCED

Next year the Canfield fair will be held four days in the first week of September, the definite dates to be decided upon at a meeting of the fair committee to be held in February.

At a meeting of the County Fair Circuit of Northwestern Ohio, held Saturday in Youngstown, the dates were announced for all fairs with the exception of Canfield. Eight counties are in the circuit.

Most of the counties will hold night fairs for one or more nights. In all probability there will be many features at night during the Canfield fair, if lighting can be provided. This will be definitely decided at the February meeting.

The Jefferson air will be held Aug. 14, 15, 16 and 17, with night fairs the last two nights. For three days beginning Aug. 21, the Kinsman fair will be held. The Warren fair will be Aug. 28 to the 30, with night fairs the last two nights; Lisbon fair from Sept. 11 to 13; Palestine fair from Sept. 18 to 20, with night sessions the last two nights; the Ravenna fair from Aug. 21 to the 24 with night sessions.

This year there will be two days of horse racing and one of auto racing. Endeavors are being made to make the arrangements for racing the same as last year.

NATIONAL TIRE CO. ELECTS OFFICERS

East Palestine, Dec. 18.—Nearly 40,000 shares of stock were represented at the annual stockholders' meeting of the National Tire and Rubber company, at the offices of the company here.

Reports for the past year and the outlook for 1933 were alike reassuring. A greater stability everywhere is being noted in the rubber situation and the feeling obtains that the near future will see some wonderful developments in this industry.

Directors for 1933 were elected as follows: C. E. Miley, Dr. P. C. Hartford, O. P. Smith, L. M. Kyes, C. W. Helman, R. B. Taggart and C. L. Merwin.

The board of directors met immediately following the stockholders' meeting and organized for the coming year as follows: C. L. Merwin, president; C. E. Miley, vice president and general sales manager; Attorney L. M. Kyes, secretary, and C. W. Helman, treasurer.

Study Reveals Fewer Ohioans Living On Farms

Though the 1920 census represents Ohio as having lost less than one percent in rural population since 1910, this showing is made only by including in the count an increasing number of city people who are edging out into the country for a place to live. The actual farming population of the state has declined 5 per cent since 1910.

This is the statement of C. E. Lively, professor of rural problems at the Ohio State university. Prof. Lively has just closed a study of Ohio's rural population by townships, having mapped out increases and decreases in 1317 townships in 86 counties.

He points out that in census parlance "rural population" includes everybody in towns of less than 2,500. Incorporated towns and villages of this size, he reports, gained 4.6 per cent in population during the census decade, and unincorporated villages gained 11.6 per cent in population. "Evidently," Prof. Lively remarks, "the so-called rural population of the census is constantly swelled by a considerable quota of real city dwellers who hover just without the incorporated limits."

"Increase in the 'rural population' occur markedly in regions contiguous to urban centers. Of the 1317 townships studied, about a quarter show quarters showed a decline. Only six Ohio counties showed an increase in number of farms."

Prof. Lively made it plain that he does not see any "menace" in these population readjustments, and said he is making them known merely as a matter of fact.

Gives Half Of Big Estate To Charity

Youngstown, Dec. 18.—By will of the late David C. Arell, who died last week half of his personal property is to be placed in a trust fund for charitable institutions. The amount of the estate is not given, but it is estimated the fund will amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

Half of the income from the fund will go to children's welfare work and half to institutions designated by the committee of the Youngstown foundation. The bulk of the estate outside of this fund will go to a nephew and three nieces, children of Frances Arrel Parsons.

Lucius B. McKelvey and L. Schafer are given their choice of one horse each from the Arrel stables, and the others will be given to the Walnut Hill farm, Lexington Ky.

Sheriff Appoints Men He Defeated

Youngstown, Dec. 18.—Sheriff-elect Paul J. Layden has named former State Representative Edward L. Donahy, whom Layden defeated at Republican primaries last summer, as his chief deputy, and Ben Jenkins, another defeated candidate for the office as deputy.

W. J. Harrison, traffic detective of the Youngstown police force, was named by Prosecutor H. H. Hull as Mahoning county secret service officer to succeed Layden Jan. 1.

"As if grown in the Gums"

The remarkable part of The Original Alveolar method of restoring missing teeth is that they resemble natural teeth so closely as to make even a dentist look again and again to see whether they "grew in the gums" or not.

This is the severe test, but the one they are constantly subjected to.

Much is expected of me, and I never disappoint those whose expectations run high.
Come in and let me show you what I can do to make what are left of your teeth more serviceable to you and more presentable to others.

Fishes To Receive Scotch Whisky As Christmas Cheer

Washington, Dec. 18.—Christmas cheer, $120,000 worth of Scotch and rye whisky seized aboard the British schooner Message of Peace, off the North Carolina coast, is to be dispensed to the fishes in the Cape Fear river.

Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes said that Judge Conner, at Raleigh, had authorized the destruction of the liquor in this manner. In disposing of the contraband every one of the quart bottles is to be broken, so that there is no possibility of recovery.

Mr. Haynes said it was not practical to have the liquor used for legal medicine purposes, since medical whisky is required to be in pint sizes. The cargo consisted of Haig & Haig, Scotch and Calvert rye.

ASK FOR CHRISTMAS PEACE

Let All Pray to God for Perfect Rest and Perfect Power and Perfect Love.

CHRISTMAS peace is God's and he must give it himself, with his own hand, or we shall never get it. Go then to God himself. Thou art his child, as Christmas Day declares: Be not afraid to go unto the Father. Pray to Him; tell Him what thou wantest; say, "Father, I am not moderate, reasonable, forbearing. I fear I cannot keep Christmas aright for I have not a peaceful Christmas spirit in me; and I know that I shall never get it by thinking, and reading, and understanding, for it passes all that, and lies far away beyond it, does peace. In the very essence of thine undivided, unmoved, absolute, eternal Godhead, which no change nor decay of this created world, nor sin or folly of men or devils, can ever alter; but which abideth forever what it is in perfect rest, and perfect power and perfect love. O, Father, give me Thy Christmas peace."—From Town and Country Sermons.

Christmas Weather.
For Christmas the weather should be of that Pickwickian kind in which the grass is "crisp and frosty," the air has a "fine, dry, bracing coldness," and the day is one "that might induce a couple of elderly gentlemen in a lonely field to take off their great coats and play at leapfrog in pure lightness of heart and gaiety."—Youth's Companion.

PRESIDENT'S WORD PLEDGED TO BONUS

Veterans Bureau Head So Declares In Talk To Ex-service Men.

Cincinnati, Dec. 17.—Assurance that President Harding would support a bonus for ex-service men, providing a feasible means of financing the bonus can be found was given ex-service men by Col. C. R. Forbes, director of the veterans' bureau at Washington, before a joint conference of the national and state executives of the Veterans' of Foreign Wars, here Sunday.

In the conference were the members of the national council of administration and the department commanders of the veterans' organization. Immediately following Col. Forbes' elimination, as a means of raising the address, a resolution which strongly advocated a sales tax, with food stuffs necessary revenue to finance the bonus was adopted.

C. Hamilton Cook, Buffalo N. Y., national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, who was attending the conference by invitation, said that his organization would take immediate action to support the resolution.

The American Legion was not represented at the meeting.

"This means that the bonus bill is likely to be passed at the coming session of congress," Col. T. L. Huston, New York city, national commander of the Veterans' of Foreign Wars, said after the meeting.

Col. Forbes called President Harding by long distance telephone shortly before going into the conference and in the course of his address, referred to this conversation with the president.

"I called him up because it was suggested to me that the bonus might be touched upon," he said. "I wish you knew his innermost thoughts. I wish you knew he loves the ex-service men."

"Harding is not opposed to a bonus. He will not be opposed to a bonus if they will provide a means for financing it. All sorts of legislation has been sought, all means have been mentioned and the most simple means of those that have been brought to my attention is the sales tax to meet this obligation."

"I congress had brought to the president the solution of the financial problem of this additional financial responsibility he would have signed the bill. I believe the sales tax is the means whereby this obligation may be paid and the sales tax is the answer to the problem of paying the bill."

Put Breeder Hens Under Lights Now

Lights in the poultry house during the winter are simply an additional aid to good feeding methods, says a poultry specialist at the Ohio State university in a special letter sent out to owners of poultry demonstration farms all over Ohio.

G. S. Vickers, extension specialist in poultry, says in this letter: "We use lights because hens will not eat in the dark and because it is otherwise difficult in winter to get enough feed into a hen to make her lay with any regularity, and to maintain vitality. That is all there is to lights as an aid to egg production; there is no mystery about it."

"Pullets should have been put under lights two months ago, but as to old hens which are to be used as breeders next spring, many poultrymen prefer not to put them under lights until about this time, late in December or early in January."

"When old hens that are to be used for breeders are kept under lights, a liberal supply of milk and of green feed should be supplied if good hatches of strong chicks are to be expected. A man can afford to buy milk and even greens for his breeders, if these are not available on his farm. These feeds literally put life into the eggs."

"Hens under lights need lots of feed. It is also well to remember that lights used to an unreasonable extent overwork the flock and lower its vitality. Ask your county agent for a bulletin on this subject, and for definite advice on which lighting timetable would be of most use to you."

Gives Farmer a Tip On Butchering Hogs

"Why not center-split the hog?" asks a specialist in meats at the Ohio State university, in his second of a series of butchering hints.

"Packers always split the hog through the center of the back," continues this authority, C. T. Conklin. "After cutting off the ham, shoulder and bacon, there then remains the back or loin cut. This cut is highly prized by the city trade. The choicest chops and roasts are secured from it, and it brings from three to four times the price per pound of the live hog."

"Many farmers, on the other hand, chop out the backbone. This results in a choice piece of back strap, but badly mutilates the loin. In roasting, the juices seep out and much of the flavor is lost, whereas in the case of the center-split carcass, the roasts are encased by the backbone and ribs on two sides, and by a thin layer of fat on the remaining side."

"I believe it would pay many farmers to center-split their hogs, particularly when all the meat is not to be consumed on the farm, and the resulting choice loin cut can be sold at a fancy price in nearby towns. A saw is all that is necessary to make the split."

Steamer In Distress

Boston, Dec. 18.—The Greek steamship Melpo is in distress in Canadian waters, according to a radiogram picked up at the Charlestown navy yard today. The steamer is not in any immediate danger, the message stated. The American steamer George Washington has gone to the assistance of the Melpo.

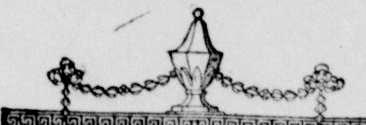

New Philadelphia—One lone fox succeeded in eluding 1500 hunters during the annual roundup here last week. The hunters will make another attempt with hundreds of people taking part in the hunt.

THREE ARE HURT AS AUTO PLUNGES DOWN STEEP HILL

East Liverpool, Dec. 18.—The first serious motor accident of the winter season on the Wellsville-East Liverpool rd. occurred about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a touring car owned and driven by Samuel Meyer, 402 Laura ave., this city, containing two women, one man besides the driver, and a four-year-old boy plunged over a 30-foot embankment at Kountz ave. and rolled to the bottom, turning turtle six times.

The machine conveying the passengers to East Liverpool from the Third st. station, Wellsville, was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when suddenly without warning, the rear wheel on the right side flew off causing the car to swerve violently to the brink of the declivity where it made its first flop in the somersaulting plunge down the incline.

All the occupants except the driver were thrown out of the machine when it turned over the first time. The most seriously injured was Mrs. Hattie Kinkad of Parkersburg, W. Va., who sustained a possible fracture of the skull and several broken ribs. Mrs. Mamie Nolan, West Eighth st. this city, sustained a possible fracture of the right shoulder and body bruises. Mayer sustained three fractured ribs.

Fred Davis, also of East Liverpool, at whose home Mrs. Kinkad and her son, Warner, were to visit, was unhurt, although he remained in the machine until it reached the foot of the embankment. The child was apparently uninjured.

THREE BURN TO DEATH, 4 HURT BADLY

Akron, Dec. 18.—Trapped in a cottage, three Massillon men one of them the center of a political fight which has been raging there for several months perished and four others, three of them attorneys in that city, were injured, one seriously, when the cottage in which the seven were sleeping, was destroyed by fire at Little Wadsworth, near here early Sunday.

Only the heroic work of Walter Holt, one of the surviving attorneys, prevented a great loss of life. The dead are:

Harold Howald, 52, city engineer of Massillon.

Frank Wagner, 50, foreman machinist.

LeRoy Hodgson, 28, truck driver, Massillon municipal electric light plant.

The most seriously injured is George W. Williams, 33, prominent Massillon attorney and former city solicitor who was rescued by Holt. He is in a Barberton hospital, suffering from body burns, but physicians say he probably will recover.

The fire which broke out between 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning also destroyed two adjoining cottages. It probably was caused by a defective flue. Dr. Cary Kent, county coroner said, after an investigation.

The fire was discovered by Walter Holt, 30 Massillon attorney, who suffered minor burns. Others who suffered slight burns were Elson Weller, 30, Massillon attorney and owners of the cottage in which all the men were sleeping, and Samuel Zankovich, 39, Massillon truck driver.

Holt and Zankovich tried to arouse the other occupants. Howald, Wagner and Hodgson were sleeping in a room which was surrounded by flames.

Finding Williams hanging unconscious from a second story window, Holt rushed back into the building and threw him to the ground, 20 feet below.

Hodgson and Zankovich had brought a load of furniture and supplies to the cottage and had been practised upon to spend the night there.

The bodies of the dead men were taken to a Massillon undertaking establishment.

LEETONIA KIWANIS CLUB TO INITIATE CIVIC MOVEMENTS

Leetonia, Dec. 18. — The meeting and banquet of the Kiwanis club held on a recent evening was one of the best on record with such speakers as Rev. P. W. Macaulay of Lisbon; Supr. Stonebreaker of Leetonia; and the music furnished by Mr. Frazier of Washingtonville who pleased with several Scotch songs, accompanied by W. W. Williams; also several vocal numbers by D. Hasbrouck.

Several excellent suggestions were made to the club. H. D. Weaver proposed that the grounds on Columbia and Lisbon sts next to the Natural Gas Co., be bought and converted into a location for a Community house with adjoining playgrounds the suggestion met with favor but nothing definite was done in the matter.

The committee appointed to look after a real Community Christmas reported that Santa Claus was interested and was already on the job.

Another proposition was that a system of bill boards advertising Leetonia be placed in service.

New officers for the club will be elected at the next meeting.

Prof. Shupp and his football team of the Leetonia High school were guests of the club.

The banquet was served by the L. C. B. A. in their proficient manner.

Fawcett Notes Improvement In Starving Russia

some help before the year is over. Whether the Quakers can adequately cope with the situation depends to a large extent on the food they will be able to get in. We already have a large amount of flour and other products stored in warehouses here and at Buzuluk, but it is estimated that this will last only two or three months after the winter relief begins. The situation is altogether better in hand than last year when, because of lack of transportation facilities, many died of starvation before food could be gotten in.

Agricultural Program
"Both the English and American Quakers have instituted an agricultural program as part of their relief work. The American mission has four Fordsons, a truck ('Old Henry') we call it a touring car and several motorcycles. The motorcycles are mostly used at the outposts of which there are three or four. The Fordsons came in the spring and have been plowing or doing other agricultural work day and night. Native Russian drivers are used in two shifts, the night shifts having torches at the end of the furrows and lights on the tractors themselves.

"The seeding, threshing and most of the reaping has been done with the power from tractors. The products go into our warehouses to be distributed for famine relief. The labor is paid for in flour and other products, so much per day or month.

"One of the great needs of this area of Russia now is more horses. There was a great loss of horses during the famine last year. We now have a project started to bring horses in from the steppes further east of the Urals. We have recently been allotted $75,000 for purchase of young horses. We can get about 150 for this sum.

"We are planning to put the horses in the hands of poor peasants who are in a position to care for them. They are to pay for them with work of a relief nature, plowing for the village relief fund, transportation or relief supplies.

Signs of Improvement
"We are also expecting about 16 Fordson tractors from America next spring. These we plan to locate at agricultural farm schools or agricultural communes of which there are eight in our district. They will be under supervision of competent Russian mechanics and driven by Russians trained by one of our representatives.

"We learn that the Russian government itself has planned and has partly started a vast reconstruction program for all Russia. There seems to be many signs of improvement in conditions. Buying and selling of all sorts of products is coming back and private enterprises especially of the smaller sort even in the cities. I understand the government still controls the larger stores and enterprises. When in Moscow I learned that in certain commercial or industrial enterprises the government retained 51 per cent of the stock and was allowing the concerns a fairly free hand. By retaining a majority of the stock they keep the right of complete government interference and control whenever it is deemed necessary.

"I am teaching English to one of our interpreters who speaks only German in return for which he is trying to pound into me bits of Slavonic speech. I have on a leather suit over a heavy sweater, flannel shirt, vest and undergarments and high laced boots over heavy woolen socks. I haven't forgotten what a white shirt and stiff collar looks like."

Finished Export Cuts Farm Prices Ohio Experts Say

To a heading decline in American exports since the war rural economists of the Ohio State university attribute a large measure of the American farmer's present financial embarrassment.

In their latest information letter to county agricultural agents these economists show that America's balance of trade has declined from the phenomenal peak of four billion dollars, reached in 1919, to a balance which they estimate will be only $350,000,000 at the end of the present year. Says R. F. Taber, the economist writing the report:

"As to farm products, our wheat exports this year have fallen off 40 per cent. Everybody knows what happened to the wheat price last summer. Corn exports, on the other hand have increased 35 per cent. The strengthened domestic price is probably reflected in this.

"Farm exports, in general, are falling off faster than is our export of manufactured goods. Around 1850, 81 per cent of American exports were farm products. In 1920, only 43 per cent of our total exports were products of the farm.

"America appears to be rapidly becoming an industrial nation, consuming a relatively larger percentage of her agricultural products at home, and shipping manufactured goods abroad."

Venezuela is one of the few countries of the world where there are no labor unions.

Develops Prize Dairy Farm While Building Machine Shop

Wilderson, Leetonia Man, Proves Successful In Both Ventures.

By M. K. ZIMMERMAN
Leetonia, Dec. 15.—It will soon be 50 years since people hereabouts took their bicycles to be repaired to a small machine shop which has just opened for business. A machine shop in those days was a place where anything mechanical could be repaired. Things are different today, however, as the majority of machine shops specialize either in manufacturing or repairing this or that machine.

It is a little like the farmer of years ago, who having a lot of cows did not know whether they were tuberculin free or not or whether they were blooded stock. A cow seemed to be a cow and many farmers let it go at that.

Start Business in 1893
When C. G. Wilderson and Elmer Harold joined resources in 1893 to go into the bicycle repair business and do other odd jobs of this kind, mechanical, little did they think what the future held or them.

The fame of the little shop was soon broadcasted throughout the community. In time the little shop had to be enlarged, and then an opportunity opened to these two men to start something new.

"We'll make hand saws," was the decision following a suggestion, and in a little while hundreds of hand saws were being manufactured and sold. But in the meantime, Mr. Wilderson who always liked things rural, bought three registered Guernsey cows. He had already started to specialize in the manufacture of woodworking machinery, and now he proposed to specialize in Guerneys. He has made a success of both.

Today, Mr. Wilderson is the directing head of the Crescent Machine company of Leetonia. The business grew from the little bicycle repair shop.

Also, the 75 to 80 head of pure blooded registered Guernsey cattle on the Myrna Maree farm, also the 50-odd head of Hampshire hogs pure blooded and every one registered, are the outgrowth of the three-cow dairy Mr. Wilderson conceived many years ago.

Become Specialists
But to get back to the machine shop of yesteryear. It was a small place to begin with, but Mr. Wilderson and his associate plugged steadily ahead. This and that piece of farm machinery was repaired. Bikes were "fixed" as the youngsters would say. And then as the business grew, larger quarters were necessary, and the bicycle repair business was put away, and the building of wood working machinery followed. Today the Crescent Machine company sends its products into every state of the union and its export business is of no small amount. The business of specializing in the building of particular machinery is becoming more pronounced every day," an officer of this company has said. "That's why we feature wood working machinery. They make a machine to manufacture matches, but I don't think you can buy one. They also make a machine to manufacture pins, but I doubt if you can buy one of these. A machine to make the split clothes pin is made, and I doubt if you can buy one of these. There is a reason, but it is not ours to say why these machines cannot be bought by every one.

"Firms making machines of all kinds today are strong for specializing. Our first effort was a hand saw and when we went ahead with this we enlarged the line." Blue Ribbons
On the walls of the office of this company are gold medal banners obtained from different international exhibitions for their display of wood working machinery.

At the Myrna Maree farm are blue ribbons also, prizes won at county and state fairs. It seems to be a habit with Mr. Wilderson to "win" the Original Food-Drink for All Ages. Quick Lunch at Home Office & Fountains. Rich Milk, Malted Grain Extract in Powder & Tablet forms. Nourishing—No cooking. Avoid Imitations and Substitutes whether it be with machinery, Guernsey cattle or Hampshire hogs. For seven years, Barney Graham, formerly in charge of the W. J. Thompson farm near East Liverpool, has had the sole management of the Myrna Maree farm.

In the meantime the small herd of three register of merit, full blooded Guernsey cows expanded. From the very best Guernsey stock farms in the United States sires and dams were purchased and added to the Myrna Maree stables, as is instanced by the acquisition of a bull calf out of imported Old Kate III, a half sister of the world's record champion Guernsey cow for the production of milk and butter fat in the long time test. The herd sire was started from such stock as this. The dam of this herd sire is owned by the Marsh Guernsey farms at Peru, Ind., noted far and wide for its worth-while stock.

Make Great Records
The oldest Guernsey cow in the Myrna Maree herd is 17 years old, and after this cow was six years old, and in Class A, it had a record of producing over 12,000 pounds of milk in 365 days with a test of over 6.75 butter fat.

But there is to be found on this farm two herd sires possessing remarkable records. Lohier's Beta, sired by Imp. Border Raider 22,243, its dam being Imp. Lohier's Polly II No. 33,688, A. R. No. 3,415 having a long test record of 13,969.60 pounds of milk and 620.18 pounds of butter fat. Then there is Goldsecker's Replica of Anna Dean Far, No. 44,919 sired by Imp. Goldsecker of Anna Dean Far, No. 26,106, its dam was Imp. Belle of Anna Dean Far, No. 46,725, A. R. No. 3,500, with a record in 365 days of 16,000.40 pounds of milk and 717.02 pounds of butter fat.

Year by year the number of Guernsey cows on this farm has increased until today there are close to 80 head on the farm, which is located on the improved Leetonia-Columbiana intercounty highway.

No Milk Is Sold
No milk is sold from this farm.

Milk is fed back to the little calves and to the Hampshire hogs. The demand for cream from this farm is greater than can be supplied, for it is only the cream that is marketed, and this in the Youngstown district. Feeding milk back to the calves and hogs hastens the development of the young stock, the vitamins having more value to the young stock than many commercial feeds.

The machine business is a paying proposition, but no more less than the farm. Both are worth while institutions, and they both had small beginnings. The combination what A Bohemian glass polisher has cop-has been worked out so successfully scribed a clock which, with the aid by Mr. Wilderson has never been ception of the strings, is made on duplicated in Columbiana county. tirely of glass.
